Executive Summary

ReVIBE is a mobile recovery community app built for people recovering from physical injury, addiction, or mental health challenges. Unlike generic wellness apps, ReVIBE combines daily personal tracking with real peer community — giving users a place to log their progress, share wins and struggles, and connect with others who genuinely understand what recovery feels like.

The app is fully built and ready for its first deployment. The core product is complete: a social feed, recovery communities, daily journal, direct messaging, user profiles with streak tracking, and a subscription system. This document outlines where we go from here — the pricing model, planned updates, marketing approach, and long-term vision.

Our Mission	Our Vision
Make recovery feel less like something you do alone and more like something you do with a team behind you — 24 hours a day, anywhere in the world.	Become the world's leading recovery support platform, connecting millions of people with peer communities, professional guidance, and the tools to rebuild their lives with confidence.

The Problem We Solve

Isolation in recovery	Most people recover without a consistent support network. Friends and family try but rarely understand. Professional support is expensive and limited to appointment hours.
No single platform	People juggle WhatsApp groups, Reddit threads, fitness apps, and mood trackers separately. Nothing combines community + tracking + messaging in one place built specifically for recovery.
Accountability gap	Studies show accountability is the single biggest predictor of recovery success. Most apps offer tracking but no human accountability.

Version 1 — What's Built & Ready

ReVIBE V1 is a complete, deployable app. Everything below is already built and working — no additional development needed before launch.

■ Home Feed	Social feed where users share updates, wins, struggles, and milestones. Mood tagging, likes, comments, real-time updates via Convex. PRO badge for subscribers.
■ Communities	Recovery communities organised by type (ACL, addiction, mental health, etc.). Users join communities, post within them, and build niche support networks.
■ Daily Journal	Track pain level (1-10), energy, motivation, and mood every day. Optional milestone notes. Full history stored per user.
■ Direct Messages	1-to-1 messaging between users. Real-time via Convex. Conversation list with last message preview.
■ Profile & Progress	Recovery stage, injury type, goals, streak counter, milestone count, and progress percentage. Personalised greeting on home screen.
■ Subscription System	Free and Pro tiers. RevenueCat for in-app purchases (iOS/Android). Stripe for web payments. Webhook-driven status sync to Convex.
■ Auth & Security	OAuth sign-in. Row-level security on all data. Rate limiting on all API calls. Users can only access their own data.
■ Onboarding	Multi-step onboarding collects injury type, recovery stage, emotional state, and goals. Sets up user profile on first launch.

Pricing Tiers

ReVIBE uses a freemium model. The free tier is genuinely useful — it builds the habit. Pro removes limits and unlocks features that serious users need.

Revenue Projections

Conservative estimates based on a freemium conversion rate of 5–8%, which is standard for well-retained recovery and wellness apps.

Phase	Active Users	Pro Subscribers (~6%)	Monthly Revenue	Annual Revenue
V1 Launch	200	12	~$108	~$1,296
3 Months	800	48	~$432	~$5,184
6 Months	2,500	150	~$1,350	~$16,200
12 Months	8,000	480	~$4,320	~$51,840
24 Months	25,000	1,500	~$13,485	~$161,820

* Projections assume consistent influencer + community-led marketing from month 2 onwards. Yearly plan adoption increases effective ARPU above $8.99/month average.

V2 Update — AI Recovery Companion

Once the app has an active user base and consistent daily usage, V2 introduces an AI companion that makes ReVIBE feel genuinely intelligent and personal. This is the feature that turns casual users into paying Pro subscribers.

The Core Idea: AI that knows YOUR recovery, not just generic advice

FREE — Smart Daily Prompt

- Every morning the app asks one smart question based on your journal data
- Examples: 'Yesterday was a tough day — what's one thing that would make today better?' • 'Your energy has been low this week. Have you been sleeping enough?'
- Responses are logic-based (no AI API cost) — driven by your tracked pain, mood, energy data
- Feels personal because it IS personal — built from your own history

PRO — Full AI Companion

- Real conversational AI powered by a language model (GPT-4o or Claude)
- Remembers your full recovery history, injury type, stage, and goals
- Users can ask anything: 'Why do I keep hitting plateaus?' / 'I relapsed, what now?'
- Weekly AI summary: your progress over the last 7 days in plain language
- Personalised milestone predictions: 'At your current pace, you'll hit 90 days on March 15'
- Crisis detection: if mood + pain data drops sharply, AI gently checks in and suggests resources

Why this drives subscriptions:

The free smart prompt gives users a taste of personalised AI every day — it's the hook. The moment they want to respond, ask a question, or get deeper insight, they hit the Pro paywall. This is the cleanest free-to-paid conversion mechanic in the app.

Additional V2 Features

+ Milestone Celebrations

When a user hits 7, 30, 90, or 365 days — the entire community gets notified. Their post goes to the top of the feed for 24 hours. Emotional moment that drives sharing.

+ Anonymous Posting

Users can post to communities without showing their name. Shame is the biggest barrier in recovery. This removes it and increases genuine engagement.

+ Progress Insights Screen

A dedicated analytics screen showing mood trends, pain patterns, energy over time, and how the user compares to others at the same recovery stage (anonymised).

+ Push Notifications

Daily journal reminder, streak alerts, community activity, and milestone notifications. Drives the daily open rate habit.

V3 Update — Professional Therapist Network

V3 transforms ReVIBE from a peer support app into a full recovery ecosystem by integrating licensed therapists, physios, and recovery coaches. This is the feature that takes the product from consumer app to healthcare platform — and unlocks a B2B revenue stream on top of the existing consumer subscriptions.

How It Works

User

- Browse and follow verified therapists in the app
- Share selected journal entries with their therapist
- Book sessions or send messages through the app
- Therapist sees their progress trends before every session
- Feel supported between sessions, not just during them

Therapist / Professional

- Professional dashboard showing all connected patients
- Real-time view of patient mood, pain, and energy trends
- Flag entries that need urgent attention
- Send private check-in messages to patients
- Recommend the app to patients — becomes an acquisition channel for us

V3 Pricing — New Tiers

Tier	Who	Price	What's Included
Pro+	Power users	$14.99/mo	Pro features + therapist connection + AI companion
Therapist Basic	Individual therapists	$29.99/mo	Dashboard for up to 20 patients, messaging, trend view
Therapist Pro	Clinics / practices	$79.99/mo	Unlimited patients, team access, advanced analytics, priority support
Enterprise	Hospitals / rehab centres	Custom	White-label option, API access, HIPAA BAA, dedicated support

* HIPAA compliance required before handling therapist-patient data in the US. Legal review and BAA agreements needed before V3 launch. Budget ~$3,000–$8,000 for compliance setup.

Marketing & Growth Strategy

Phase 1: Seed (Pre-Launch)

- Recruit 10–20 real recovery users from Reddit (r/ACL, r/stopdrinking, r/leaves, r/BipolarReddit) • These are NOT friends or family — they must have personal motivation to post daily • Goal: have 50+ real posts in the feed before first public user arrives • Create a private WhatsApp/Discord group to coordinate daily posting activity • This solves the empty-room problem that kills every community app at launch

Phase 2: Organic + Influencer (Month 1–3)

- Target micro-influencers in recovery niches: sobriety TikTok, injury rehab YouTube, mental health Instagram — 5k to 50k followers, not mega influencers • Offer free Pro accounts in exchange for honest reviews — do not pay for fake endorsements • Post consistently on TikTok and Instagram Reels: real user stories, recovery wins, app walkthroughs • Reddit community posts (organic, not ads) — share in relevant subreddits as a genuine resource
- Estimated cost: $0–$500/month if using barter (Pro accounts) instead of cash payments

Phase 3: Paid Acquisition (Month 3+)

- Once retention metrics are solid (D7 > 30%, D30 > 15%), start paid ads • Facebook/Instagram ads targeting: recovery groups, chronic pain, physiotherapy interests • TikTok ads targeting: sobriety content viewers, fitness recovery • Target cost per install (CPI): under $2.00 — with strong App Store ratings this is achievable • Estimated budget: $500–$2,000/month to start, scaling with revenue

Phase 4: Therapist Partnerships (Month 9+)

- Direct outreach to physiotherapy clinics, addiction counsellors, and rehab centres • Pitch: 'Give your patients a way to stay accountable between sessions — for free' • One therapist who recommends the app to patients = 10–30 new users per therapist • This becomes your most efficient acquisition channel at scale • Attend recovery and mental health professional conferences for partnerships

The Opportunity

The global mental health and recovery app market is projected to reach $17.5 billion by 2030. The gap in that market is not another meditation app or mood tracker — it is a genuine community platform built specifically around the recovery experience, with real accountability mechanisms and professional integration.

ReVIBE is positioned to own that gap. The core product is built. The monetisation model is clear. The growth path from community seeding to influencer marketing to therapist partnerships is defined. The technology stack scales without infrastructure overhead.
